Sanur Village Festival considers the 'village' part as an essential part of the whole event. This particular theme is the main appeal and is the outstanding value of the event. It has become an image that shaped the presence of Sanur Village Festival. Arief Yahya, Indonesia's Minister of Tourism, opened the last year's festival and going as far as saying: 'Sanur is the benchmark of Indonesia's community-based tourism'. Sanur Village Festival keeps growing by adding 'the new spirit of heritage' as its foundation and its true character, making its presence well-awaited and becomes a primary agenda of Sanur Village and the whole Bali itself.
