DISCOVER EARTH

THE BATU KURSI TEMPLE

The most interesting attraction is the fantastic natural scenery because Pura Bukit Kursi is surrounded by green mounts. It looks fresh and you can feel the healthy and fresher air there. In Indonesia Kursi means a chair. This name is taken because there is a stone which looks like a chair on the peak of the temple. It is a giant stone! Just imagine, you are about to see a 20 meter stone-chair looked like. Before enjoying the beauty of this ancient temple and its surrounding, you will pass through one more temples known as Mutering Jagat Temple. It is a common thing if you have different experience than your friends.

THE WEST BALI NATIONAL PARK

West Bali National Park (Taman Nasional Bali Barat in Bahasa Indonesia) is the most north-westerly point of Bali. It includes the whole of the Prapat Agung Peninsula, and large swathes of land around the towns of Gilimanuk, Cekik and Banyuwedang. The habitat is very varied with rainforest, dry savanna, acacia scrub and lowland forests, as well as more montane forests in the higher centre. There are also some pockets of dense mangrove forest. One hundred and sixty species of bird have been recorded in the park, including the near extinct Bali Starling, Bali's only endemic vertebrate species, and a key reason why this national park was created in the first place

THE MENJANGAN ISLAND

The Menjangan is a peaceful retreat located in the heart of an unspoiled national park on the stunning north west coast of Bali. It is the largest resort with 382 hectares within the boundaries of the Bali Barat National Park and offers guests the chance to get close to nature and relax in exquisite surroundings. this is located at the most western point of Menjangan Island. To navigate, we usually start on the North wall and drift along the west coast to end up in the channel between the mainland of Bali and the island of Menjangan. There can be some current at this dive site and so we recommend that divers with little experience start at some of the other beautiful sites around the island.
